Q. Whatever happened to Donna Mills? It seems she has just disappeared since leaving the hit CBS show "Knots Landing," Kyle D., Thomasville, Pa.

A. For the past two years, Donna has been working on a project titled "Intimate Portrait," a 13th TV drama about the real-life story of Patricia Neuman. In 1987, a court awarded Mrs. Neuman 18 years of back child support. The delay in the release of this film was due to script problems. No word on when it will begin airing Wednesdays.

Q. I heard that Bette Midler and Woody Allen did not get along personally together when they shot the movie, "Scenes From A Mall." Is this true, and if so, what was the problem? Sparky T

A. The relationship was somewhat strained in the beginning but the two stars were on a friendly basis when they wrapped up the movie. Woody, you see is usually the big famous when he does a film — along with raking all the shots and having total control. However, Mother has brought in over $30 million to Disney Films, and she was top-dog on this project which took literally some time to adjust to. As a professional, though, he did, and the movie looks like a future big hit for both stars.

Q. I do not like Andrew Dice Clay at all. I was wondering if his movie "Casualties" movie was a hit at the box office, considering all the hype over this tasteless "comic" — if that's what one would call him. Anne W.

A. The Adventures of Ford Fairlane" was a box office bomb — grossing only $22 million. Apparently, Clay's appeal is not universal enough to produce a hit making picture. In fact, Clay was supposed to begin filming "The Gossip Columnist" with Daryl Hannah, but that project has been put on hold, and Hannah has left the United States for Brazil to instead film "Al Play in the Fields of the Lord." Apparently the folks at Fox are seriously studying whether Clay can carry his own weight on the big screen, and that does not look very promising, indeed.

Q. A lot has been written about Ronald and Nancy Reagan, so when do we hear about it from the man himself? Cora E.

A. Ronald Reagan has completed his autobiography for Simon & Schuster and it is titled "An American Life" due for release this fall.

Q. Donald Trump has the Fanciest-looking hair I have ever seen in my life. With all of his money, why can't he get a decent hair piece? Terry E.

A. The Donald's hair is real. That's why he hasn't yet purchased a rug. Donald, though, does have some charming hair and especially a product which contains both a hair expander and coloring. I agree, Terry his hair is very odd looking.

Q. Please settle this argument my husband and I are having about Laurence Olivier's widow. Did she, or didn't she, just die. My husband says yes, but I say Joan Plowright is still alive. Who is right? Joan W

A. Laurence Olivier's first wife, Vivien Leigh, recently died. Joan Plowright was the actor's third wife.

Q. I keep reading in the papers that Donald Trump has a running feud with Merv Griffin. Can you tell me why? Is it because they're rivals in Atlantic City? Also, what's the status of Merv's romance with Eva Gabor? Thank you. Darlene C.

A. Trump reportedly beat out Griffin in a deal regarding they respective casinos in Atlantic City. Merv, who rakes in a few shekels from other interests besides casinos including "Wheel of Fortune" and "Jeopardy" he always credits his fortune with for the idea that led to the latter game) never went public with his feelings about Trump's methods. However insiders have said the deal while legal, was pretty nasty. These days, Trump is having a lot of problems in Atlantic City but Merv, ever the gentleman, refuses to gloat over his adversary's troubles.

Merv and Eva continue to be good friends. As of now neither is interested in changing the relationship from friendship to matrimony.

Q. I know Lisa Minnelli and Lorna Luft are sisters, but who are their fathers? Also, do they have a brother? And who is Frances Gumm that their mother, Judy Garland, once said she could never escape? Bobby B

A. Judy Garland had Lisa with her second husband, Vincente Minnelli, the late great director. She had Lorna and her son, Joey, with another husband, producer Sid Luft. Frances Gumm is Judy's real name. The story is that she was once asked how it felt to be the famous Judy Garland and she reportedly answered that Judy is a nonentity thing that comes and goes depending on your last movie or record album. But who you are stays with you always.

Q. Did Arnold Schwarzenegg- ger have an affair with the late Mae West? Phyllis T

A. No. However Ms West did collect muscular young men as part of her public entourage and, reportedly, he was one of many actors who appeared in Ms West's company from time to time.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) There are too many loose ends in connection with a business deal. Avoid taking risks. Someone appre- ciates your loyalty. Tough romantic feelings strengthen; you could become the victim of poor advice in business. Safeguard capital. Avoid taking chances.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A family member appreciates your help. Gains are to be made through work now. Avoid distractions and foolish expenditures. Rely on your own efforts to get things done. Someone to whom you entrust a responsibility could let you down.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You may invest in jewelry or precious metals, but you may be lax about details on the job. Sift through rumors for the truth. An old friend would like you to drop by. Spending could get out of hand in connection with romance or the pursuit of pleasure.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Save some money for a rainy day. A family member may exaggerate. Signals between loved ones could be crossed. Watch communi- cations. Not everything you hear today will be true. Others may misrepresent the truth in some way. A bond of friendship grows stronger.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Carelessness with money could be a problem. Don't misplace keys or other valuables. Career connections pay off for you now. Make sure you follow through on promises in business. Don't take on more than you can handle. You may hear from an old love.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Investigate retirement plans. Business and pleasure mix favor- ably. Interruptions may interfere with a dinner for privacy later. Legal matters are favored, but a friend seems lackadaisical, and is not to be counted on. Avoid loaning money to others.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You may act against your better judgment regarding a job situation. Relations with a loved one improve. A friend may let you down. Work gains accrue but a loved one seems uninterested. Evening entertaining could lead to overspending. Hold fast to ethics.

SCORPIO (October 23 to Novem- ber 21) You are eye-to-eye with a loved one but don't goad each other into extravagant moves. A work matter could get you down. Watch reckless promises. Rapport increases with a co-worker. A family member refuses to budge. Evening hours now favor quiet pursuits.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Impulse buying could lead to unwise purchases. Pleasant times come early in the week, but have a domestic problem arises. You gain encouragement from a family member. Accept positive thinking. Don't dwell on limitations.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's a good time to express ideas and to contact others, but do refrain from gossiping. Slight inhibitions may arise after dark. Private chats are illuminating. A friend makes an extravagant prom- ise. Be more sensitive to the feelings of a family member.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A friendship reaches a turning point over a financial matter. Don't take chances; career-wise. A party invitation comes now. Avoid open confrontation with others. You work best from behind the scenes. It's a poor time to ask a favor of a friend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You may feel unappreciated by a higher up, though welcome support comes in the area of friendships. Say no to a money request. Don't mix business and friendship now. Luck is with you in career interests, but don't push beyond reasonable limits.

DEAR DIANE

by Diane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE:

My boyfriend broke up with me after four months. I was pretty hurt and shocked by it. He said the reason was because he was going to be gone most of the summer to another state. I real- ize now that he knew this when he asked me out, but didn't bother to tell me about it until a week before he left. I felt really used. I had gotten pretty infat- uated with him while we were going out, and I thought he meant it when he said "I love you." He says he wants to stay friends, and I do (drugs together with this other couple we used to double with. I told him how I felt about what he'd done, and that I didn't think he should call anymore because if I'm going to be around other people and trying to get over him, I'll just get all upset about him again every time he calls. My friends think I'm being selfish by not staying friends with him because I still like him, and we both get along together so well. Am I being selfish?

DEAR CONFUSED:

I think you have every right to feel hurt by what happened. After all, he did lead you on. Personally, I don't think there is any friendship since it all seems to have been based upon a deception in the first place.

As for your friends, I wouldn't worry about what they have to say. While they can offer advice or opinions, they don't have to live your life. You do. Thus, the next time they venture an opinion, simply thank them for their interest but let them know that you are more than capable of making your own deci- sions.

If you decide to see the young man, do yourself a favor and don't allow the relationship revert to its former intimate terms. That isn't necessary to carry on a friendship.

DEAR DEX

by Dexter Dyer

DEAR DEX:

I have just read your reply to a question on "Curious" concern- ing the marriage of first cousins. Your reply is correct. Cousin marriage is wrong. Many states, including Michigan, allow first cousins to marry. Civil incest laws are constantly being rewritten to reflect the times where first cousins may not marry, they are allowed to do so if it is part of their religion (predominately Jewish), or their background.

My new book, "Kinship: It's All Relative" (Genealogical Pub- lishing Company, Inc.), explores consanguinity and discusses topics such as the one in ques- tion. Library Journal said in its review that "Kinship should be a must-have reference for every library."

I enjoy your column and look forward to hearing from you.

JACKIE SMITH ARNOLD

DEAR MS. ARNOLD:

Thank you for your very interest- ing and informative letter concern- ing the marriage of cousins.

Personally, I believe such mar- riages are dangerous because the resultant offspring run the risk of mental retardation and deformity in cases because of the close genetic tie. That is not to say that it always happens but the odds are four to 1 that against it.

Religious and ethnic groups which still promote first-cousin marriages probably originated at a time in which this was practiced in order to preserve the group and stand up to the threat of intermarriage and the mingling of beliefs and customs. With all that we know now, I hardly think it's necessary anymore.

Again, thanks for writing.
